FAT — brings back your figure
to youthful slenderness.

Through a most marvelous recent discovery scientists have been able to incorporate the wing gum called "Silph"—Doctors—medical authorities, and grateful users, who had been burdened with obesity for years, are amased at the quick and astonishing results produced by "Silph" in most obstinate cases where everything else seemed to have failed.

The above picture of Mrs. N. of Brooklyn shows you what Silph Reducing Gum has done for a woman who had been overburdened with fat for years and years. Today she is back to her normal weight. All she did was to chew Silph Reducing Gum for a few weeks and here is the result. You can do the same—already hundreds are reducing with Silph everyday.

The moment you start chewing Silph you feel a wonderful change in your system—stomach and intestinal troubles vanish—no more pains or aches—through the flow of saliva mired with the gastric juices and these extract of sea plants, Silph eliminates from your system certain elements which causes for FAT and you will be amazed how easily and quickly you can lose all excess weight.

Silph is not a frug, nor a laxative, but a pleasant reducer in candy form. What could be more pleasant than to chew two or three pieces of gum a day and know that your excess fat is gradually and surely going for good.

Silph not only appeals to people already overburdened with excess fat but to those who have a tendency to obesity. It is a wonderful way to prevent FAT to accumulate on the figure—it is harmless and recognised as a wonderful tonic—moommended to men, women and children, not only for reducing, but to do away with all worn out, tired feeling—Silph sells for 50 cents a bor, enough for one week at all drug stores. COOLIDGE PAYS TRIBUTE TO CANADA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—President Coolidge today paid high tribute to Canada and declared that the United States has no higher century past.

In a letter to Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, who is to deliver an address at Vancouver, B. C. to-day, at the dedication of a monu-ment to the late President Hard-ing, Mr. Coolidge said: "When I learned that you were to speak at Vancouver on the oc casion of dedicating the International Kiwanis monument in re-membrance of the late President Harding, I was naturally reminded of the eloquent and feeling address which he made in Vancouver only a little more than two years ago. "To that testimony of interna-

A WORD OF COMFORT
At evening time, away from the hard and Jarring noises of the city with its bustle and din, your loneliness and weary heartache lay hold upon you like a nightmare. You are driven to Him because you have no other place to go.
Then comes the sense of quiet, of rest, of refreshment and of good courage. From somewhere comes the balm, which soothes your soul, and you guess that it comes from God.

THE business was beginning to assume A extensive proportions. Branch offices were being established in various sections of California. A connection was made with the Bank of Italy which afforded the privileges and advantages offered by a metropolitan financial institution with offices in 65 cities of the state. Elkskin, calfskin and cowhide are the leathers most favored for tampers' moccasins. Some of these shoes have double soles and may be made water-tight by keeping them well-greased. It is difficult to overestimate the importance of the proper shoes for camping out, a pastime which is on the gain among sportsmen and for which August and September are the ideal months. To be sturdily, yet comfortably, shod means everything to one's peace of mind.

Gloves, too, should be taken into account notwithstanding that many horny-handed campers disdain to wear them. They are a real protection in unfamiliar territory. An excellent type is shown here. It is of soft ooze leather and has knitted wrists for added warmth and comfort. Every camper-out should fetch along at least one pair of gloves. Many an emergency will arise that makes gloves useful, yes, even imperative.

What is earth in the garden, is dirt in the parlor. Appropriateness is the big thing, indeed, the whole thing in clothes for rugged use out-of-doors. Dress neither like a dude, which is silly, nor like a roughneck, which is needless. Take the time and trouble to find out what are useful and practical clothes to wear on your camping trip. A proper turnout makes your outing far more enjoyable. Moreover, cool nights demand warmth and comfort as a simple measure of prudence.

Bob Law, local moving picture aspirant, will celebrate his seventeenth birthday tomorrow by dragging an automobile through Santa Ana by his teeth. At least he will start this journey, and if he does not win it will cost A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange County Fair $10. Stanley's loss would be Sheriff Sam Jernigan's gain, as the two men, at the end of a heated discussion in the basement of the hall of records, posted a wager on the trial trip of the "Golden Chariot" through Fourth street from Broadway to Bush. The "stunt" will start at 11 a. m. at Broadway Jernigan alleges that "The Golden Chariot," which is what Stanley calls his official decorated car, will give the young Hercules a lot of trouble, as it is not noted for speeding anyway. And the Sheriff's office knows a lot about the performances of cars. it is not noted for speeding anyway. And the Sheriff's office knows a lot about the performances of cars. SUMMER'S WORK IS OF GREAT BENEFIT

Many Visitors Heed Requests for Assistance at Trabuco Préventorium

BY OLIVE LOPEZ

The beautiful camp site in the Trabuco canyon, near the foot of grand old Saddleback is deserted now and only the sounds of the great outdoors pervade the quiet, where for the last three months the shouts and laughter, singing and talking of little children, boys and girls, "playing the health game," have been heard, as they steadily added pounds to underweight bodies.

What more beautiful benefac-tion can be sponsored by the rich as well as the poor, this plan of permanent construction of a preventorium, which would be a temple for the building up of the potential citizens of Orange county! PREDICTS YEAR OF FULL ACTIVITIES

Unity Between Home and School Advocated by State Association

Necessity of individual efforts on part of each local association president and each committee or department chairman to bring about effective, result-getting organization work, is emphasized in a message addressed to the membership of the Fourth (Orange county) district Parent-Teacher associations by Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, president of the district organization.

Predicting a year full of activities along different lines, the president says:

"We expect much constructive work from our chairmen. They should put the work of their department into the hands of every local organization and help them to function in line with the district and the state. Every one has a grave responsibility and may we each do our best. An objective is a splendid thing for every chairman and every president to work to-ward. There is so much which might be done not only in an educational way but in the material line of philanthropy as well. Do not forget the one while interested in the other. NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—No repetition of yesterday's outpouring of stocks occurred in today's session. On the contrary, traders who had taken a short position on yesterday's decline found a decided scarcity of offerings available for covering purposes and in many instances were forced to retire their contracts at substantial losses.

In view of the bearishness which the reaction aroused in speculative quarters this quick turnabout furnished a striking commentary on the market's fundamental strength.

It was ample proof that the general list was still in powerful hands.

DAILY

The failure of the Athletics to go the route has been a shock to the thousands of fans who were pulling for Connie Mack.

In the second division since 1914, public opinion was strongly with the astute and able Connie in his surprising comeback in 1925.

No one figured the Athletics as a pennant contender in the spring, yet from the start of the season until Labor Day, the Mackmen were strongly in the running.

True, they are not yet mathematically out of the race, but the odds are strongly against them. Many of the baseball experts pre dicted the Athletics would fail in the crisis, basing their belief merely on the youth and inexperience of the team as a whole. Now that the club has faltered in the home stretch some of the "I told you so" boys are having their inning.

"My club is going to be just as good as the players think it is," remarked Connie Mack to me this spring. "I feel that I have a great ball club. All I need to do is to get the players feeling the same.'

With 100 games out of the way and the Athletics out in front by a fairly comfortable markin, I was convinced that the club believed in itself. I didn't look for the team to fade as it did.

HARD TO DOPE

When a ball club slumps, particularly in batting, the effect is felt in all departments of play.

The Athletics, who won most of their games through free hitting during the early stages of the race. simply checked their extra base hits for more than a month in the home stretch.

As is usually the case when things are breaking badly, an error or a base on balls invariably resulted in a run.

Pitchers, who had been winning consistently all season just couldn't get going. Take the case of Ed Rommel for instance. The brilliant knuckle-ball artist won 20 games in the first four months, then went about four weeks before he could capture his 21st victory.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 16 .-'That problem will have to be handled when it comes up," Wilbert Robinson, president and manager of the Brooklyn robins, said when told that Jack Fournier, his veteran first baseman, had announced that would retire at the end of the season. In a state-ment given to the newspapermen with the team, Fournier said he would have to leave the Brooklyn team to retain his self respect as he had been so abused by the Brook-lyn fans that he could not stand it.

The candidates were put through a light pace. by the end of the week Harris thinks he will have his men ready for regular drill. He will have to shape his team rapidly to be able to take on the powerful Lions in little more than two weeks.

Harris was pleased with the class of the men who reported. He has plenty of heavy men for the line and a corps of fast sprinters and line plungers for his backfield. Dan Cook, crack little quarter-

Many Reasons Advanced

Numerous reasons beyond the traditional weakness of her sex have been advanced to explain her Some have been accusations that she did not follow in in again the next afternoon and structions as to her diet, her training and the speed of her stroke.

Cable dispatches said that Capt. Jabez Wolff, her veteran trainer, cautioned her several times that she was setting too fast a pace and that she was wasting her energy by conversing with the swimmers Jim Anderson, the tall Australian who were acting as her companions

Santa Ana and Fullerton high schools, ancient and time honored rivals, may clash on the grid-iron Thanksgiving day this fall. Grouped in different leagues for the first time since the institutions became deadly foes, it appeared for a time that the teams would not get together for their annual "big game" this season.

That Santa Ana is keenly anxthe football field with the Redlegs was evidenced today by D. Hammond, principal of the local high school, who stated it was his hope and that of other officials, including Coach "Chuck" Winterburn, that a contest might be arranged between the teams at the conclusion of their regular league seasons.

Hammond said it was his be lief that Thanksgiving day would be the best date available. Being on a holiday and coming at a time when both aggregations would be at the peak of their game, a contest then would be productive of excellent football and would draw the largest crowd in the history of football here, Hammond believes. Within the next week, it was indicated, local representatives will make overtures for the Thanksgiving day date and it is confidently expected here that Fullerton also will be anxious to meet the locals again. The teams have been close rivals since 1917 and stand virtually on even terms in games won and lost.

Santa Ana is still a member of the Coast Preparatory league, the strongest interscholastic athassociation in Southern California.

Fullerton withdrew from the loop this year and returned to the Orange county league. The Redlegs, boasting a veteran team, expect to have little difficulty in winning its way to the championship. Orange, last year's title holders, lost all but two monogram wearers and is not expect ed to more than challenge Fullerton's right to the crown.

Although no pre-season have as yet been scheduled by Santa Ana, Coach Winterburn continues to send his squad through hard workouts every af-ternoon. Before the end of the weak he intends to first string squad and if every thing is going well he may scrimmage his men Friday afternoon. Coach M. J. Berg, the "miracle man" who gave Orange its first championship eleven in history last season, is anxious to schedule a practice fuss with poly Oc tober 10, it is understood. Berg's club trimmed Santa Ana, 6 to 0, in 1924 and the local men would like nothing better than a chance to avenge that downfall so it is

From the standpoint of attendance and interest, the tomato growers field day, held at Buena Park on September 11, was one of the most successful of its kind ever held in the county. Some 55 growers were present to hear M. Shapovalov, plant pathologist of the U.S. department of agriculture talk an various diseases of toma-toes, Roy E. Campbell, entomologist, also of the U.S. department of agriculture, on the habits, appearance and control of various insect pests which attack toma-

The meeting was called for 9:30

American Fruit Growers, near Buena Park. Assistant Farm Advisor Ellis introduced Mr. Shapovalov, who talked on such diseases as fusarium wilt, western blight nematodes and others of importance. Fusarium wilt, he explained. can easily be recognized by the plants turning yellow in the field and often dying after reaching considerable size. There is also a dry rot which appears in the stem and roots. The cure for this diesase is to use resistant variety. The Norton, a selection of the Stone, is resistant to wilt. He also discussed western blight at considerable length, describing it as a yellowing of the vines, the eaves curling upward and exposing purple veins. Most of the affected plants become worthless and a large percentage die. There is no conrol for this disease, except a rotation of crops. Nemat-ode and blossom end rot were also discussed. At present, nematode cannot be cured, except by rotation of crops, while blossom end rot. a slow developing dry rot, can be prevented by the maintenance of proper moisture conditions.

Mr. Campbell then talked on various insects, the most important being the tomato worm. This worm is very much like the corn ear worm, causing a great deal of damage by eating into the ripen-ing fruit. It can be controlled by the use of arsenicals, either dust spray. Such other insects as the large tomato worm, commonly known as the tobacco worm, and the wireworm were discussed by Service station proprietors must sell the grade of gasoline they say they sell or violate a new law just passed by the county board of supervisors. The penalty calls for six months in the county jail for every day the law is violated. If a man violates the law for one year he is likely to go to the county jail for a little longer than 183 years.

After he served his time, he would have to start bootlegging to fine of $182,500 he would pay a fine of $182,500 he would owe, because the law also says that the judge can add a fine to the jail sentence of $500 for every day the law is violated.

But if the same man decided to rob a bank of more money than all the gasoline tanks in the county could hold, it is likely that he would get off with six months, or if the judge felt hardboiled, he probably would send the man up for a year.

Biggest Circus Ever.

"The biggest circus ever on tour," say the agents who are here today making eleventh-hour arrangements. The advance men are laying out the show grounds with extreme care.

"Five rings instead of three, this year," asserted the boss surveyor, "and a wider hippodrome track to take care of the acts that are too big for the stages. One display alone calls for 150 horses and their riders in the new equine ballet. And thrills! Say! Eleven highwire acts going on at once. Leaping horses that clear the backs of six stallions without winking an eyelash! You'll need 50 pairs of eyes to see it all."

With five rings, six elevated stages and a main-tent so constructed as to allow much greater space for hippodrome and aerial displays than in any past season, the Ring-ling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey program for 1925 far sur-passes those of other years. Big acts are now featured in relays of five, nine, 11 or 15, depending upon the character of the displays.

All of the world's greatest high wire artists have been brought to gether for the present tour. These include the Australian wizard, Con Colleano, who turns forward and backward somersaults on a thread of steel; Mijares, who maintains hazardous balance while describ-ing an arc of 180 degrees on a mg an are of 180 degrees on a swaying wire; Maximo, most famous of all high-wire comedians; Berta Beeson, sensational aerial dancer; the Cuban, Bonar, the Valdo-Meers troupe, the Rositas and Manels and Manola

EVENING SALUTATION All that philosophy can teach is to be stubborn sullen under misfortune.

GASOLINE THAT'S GASOLINE

Motorists in general welcome the county's new pure petroleum" ordinance. Under this ordinance any filling station that sells gasoline or oil not up to standard will get into trouble unless it is made plain to the buyer that the product sold is not up to

There was a time in this county, as in all counties of the state, that gasoline pumps could be changed so that whenever a purchase was made every gallon would be short. Of course it is not intimated that many pumps were set to cheat, but undoubtedly some of them were. George McPhee, county sealer of weights and measures, long since put a stop to that kind of cheating in filling stations of the county. To him will go the responsibility of seeing to it that the new ordinance governing the quality of gasoline and oils is enforced, and, we have no doubt, vigorous enforcement will be carried out by Sealer McPhee.

Throughout his work as sealer of weights and measures, McPhee has been successful. His success has been due to two factors. One of these, and it is the factor that has meant the most, is McPhee's unswerving attitude of strict reading of the law. A cord of wood has meant an exact measurement; a pound has been a pound the county around, and with Mc-Phee it hasn't been 15 ounces or even 151/2 ounces; a quart has been, and is, with McPhee, no shade of a pint less than a quart. The other factor in Mc-Phee's success has been his persistency; he has been everlastingly on the job. His realm of activity has extended from correct weighing of carloads of beets to full strawberry boxes.

So, with the institution of the new ordinance, dealers in phoney gasoline and oils might as well take warning. If they know McPhee, as others who have bumped up against his vigorous, but fair, methods of enforcement of weights and measures know him, there will be a sudden disappearance of any gasoline or oil that won't bear inspection or truthful labels.

PAVING AND SIDEWALKING

Two more improvement projects for the northwestern part of the city are before the city council. One of these is of particular consequence in opening up that portion of the city to travel on pavement. Several miles of paving is under way, and it is now proposed to pave North Bristol street from Fifth street to the north city limits, located north of the Santiago creek. This will give another improved connection with West Seventeenth street, which, since it was paved, has become one of the main arteries of the county seat. It will also reach into an area north of Seventeenth that has always been looked upon as farming land. Paving of the street will make this section available for consideration for subdivision when the city reaches the point that further subdivision is advisable.

The second project up for sonsideration is sidewalking West Seventeenth between Ross and Baker Moines Register. streets. There is no question about the advisability of sidewalking this street. Increased travel has made the street perilous for pedestrians, and, now that school is opened, this peril is particularly noticeable and the need for action mandatory. There is but one point at issue, and that point concerns whether the north side of the street or the south side of the street shall be sidewalked. Those interested on both sides will make no mistake if both sides are sidewalked.

AS TO OVERPRODUCTION

planted, there was much talk of overproduction. "No use to plant more fruit trees," many said, "there is already as much fruit grown as can be successfully marketed." With thousands and other thousands of acres planted since, there is yet no overproduction, and with California's splendid system of marketing there seems to be very little cause to fear it.

The expansion of cities throughout Southern California during the past year did not, as many believed would be the case, result in a reduction of the acreage devoted to citrus fruit growing. The citrus census shows 270,162 acres in citrus fruit in 1925 as against 268,703 last year. Lemon acreage declined, however, to the extent of 1,130 acres. The 1925 citrus census shows: Oranges-bearing, 192,226 acres; non-bearing, 11,082; new plantings, 1,321. Of lemons there are: Bearing-49,971 acres; nonbearing, 4,920; new plantings, 498. Of grapefruit there are 5,417 bearing acres; non-bearing, 3,116; new plantings, 1,071; making a total of 9,604 acres, a gain of 2,395 acres over last year, which is the largest gain in any variety for a long time.

It is estimated by people who have studied the matter that, during the next five years, fully twenty per cent of the bearing acres in Los Angeles county will be eliminated, due to the expansion of town subdivisions. This will, in all probability, offset all is safe to assume that no larger acreage will be given great.

over to citrus fruit growing than at the present time. The demand for California grown citrus fruit has come to be world-wide, the marketing system has been found to be adequate and efficient—equal to every emergency,—so that the bugaboo of over-production may be regarded as a bugaboo only.

THE NEED OF TOLERANCE

Worthy of republication in every newspaper in the country is the recent utterance of Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State.

Speaking before the American Bar Association at Detroit, Mr. Hughes gave utterance to these timely

"The most ominous sign of our times is the growth of an intolerant spirit. It can be exorcised only by invoking the genius which watched over our development—the American spirit of civil and religious liberty.
